PLEASED THE PUBLIC.

Postal Telegraph Does Some Excellent
Work on the World's Series.

It is certain that the baseball fans of this city in every way appreciate the kindness of Manager F. A. Burnham of the Postal Telegraph in his live work of furnishing bulletins during the world's series. This company was the only one in Portsmouth that showed any public spirit and the service that it produced on the occasion of this big event was complete. It showed the enterprise of the company and the fact that a money consideration did not figure in its efforts to please the public. The Postal loses nothing by this way of doing business and the hundreds of people who like the National game will tip their hats to the local manager for this work.

PLAYING WITH NORWICH.

York Beach Ball Player Now
a Gridiron Star.

"Mac" O'Dowd, son of Police Sergeant John O'Dowd of Manchester, who played with the York Beach nine last summer and also played several games with the Dover nines, is now playing a tackle position for the Norwich University eleven. When at Manchester High, O'Dowd did not try for the football team, confining his energies to playing baseball. He went out for the Norwich team this fall and played tackle against Holy Cross last Saturday. Norwich downed Holy Cross by the score of 6 to 0, and when it is considered that Yale only defeated Holy Cross by a 7 to 0 score, it can be seen that the Norwich eleven is a formidable one.

PRESIDENT THERE

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 16.—The president of the United States and the British ambassador were among those who came here today to join the observance of the 100th anniversary of the American Antiquarian society, one of the oldest organizations of its kind in this country. President Taft at a banquet tonight was expected to be a feature of the celebration.

Historical authorities of this and a number of foreign countries attended the meetings. An address reviewing the work of the society was delivered at the opening session by former congressman Charles G. Washburn. Speakers at a meeting later in the day included United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, British Ambassador James Bryce, and former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania.

The chief object of the society is the collection and preservation of materials for a study of American An-

DIVORCE LIBELS OCCUPY MOST OF COURT'S TIME

Very Few Important Cases
Are Listed for Jury Trial.

Uncontested divorce libels have occupied most of the attention of Judge John M. Mitchell of Concord, who is presiding over the October session of the Superior court of Rockingham county. From Tuesday forenoon until adjournment last night the various libels have been poured into the ears of the judge. Desertion, abusive treatment and incompatibility of temper, with the various other contributory causes have formed the main theme of evidence. Judge Mitchell has also heard a few motions of importance only to the parties concerned during the two days of the session.

The following uncontested libels were presented to the court: Willis H. Paige against Annie Paige; John E. Mills against Minnie T. Mills; Emma M. Sauborn against Charles W. Sauborn; Jacob F. Robinson against Emily L. Robinson; Emory R. Martin against Edith Martin; Florence B. Churchill against Frank H. Churchill; George W. Douglass against Clara A. Douglass, and Gertrude H. Dobson against John J. Dobson.

The jury list is said to compare favorably in length with the list in other years, although few cases of general importance are listed. Thirty-seven cases are marked for jury trials. The following cases are marked for the court session in Derry:

George D. Rand against Joshua C. Freeman; John G. Crawford against Frank P. Woodbury; A. L. and E. E. Greer (Greer Brothers Piano company) against A. Laport; First National bank against Frank A. Hardy; Edwin R. Weston, administrator of Lester W. Russell, against Frank A. Hardy, and Hattie J. Marshall against Albert B. Shute.

Griffin, selectmen of the town of Derry, Crutcher Steel company against Edward T. Kimball; First National bank, Martha S. and Edward T. Kimball, executors of Edward P. Govan, judgment for plaintiff; Alvan T. Fuller against Alexander T. Segura, W. H. Carpenter, trustee, neither party; A. J. Willis against John W. Mackie, master of the Wingold Grange, and the response by Oliver S. Howe of Brentwood, master of the Pomona. tree last Friday afternoon, and who died at the Cottage hospital Saturday afternoon, was held at the home of his parents on Academy street Wednesday, conducted by the Rev. H. P. Quimby, pastor of the Methodist church. The body was taken to Raymond for burial.

The funeral service of Mrs. Mary McDonald was held Wednesday at the St. Michael's church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. John E. Finen. Mrs. McDonald had been ill with heart trouble during a greater part of the summer. Survivors are two daughters, both living in Springfield, Mass.

Pant Cote claims to hold the record in the size of rats caught in this section, as one was caught in a trap set by him and which its shaggy weighed close to three pounds.

A pleasant affair was the gathering of the elderly people of the Methodist church at the annual social prepared for them by the Ladies' Missionary society of the church, there being a social to a number of them present to enjoy the hospitality of the society. The event was for those who are on "the sunny side of 60." Amanda Brown was chairman of the committee of arrangements, she being assisted by the several different committees.

A pleasant smoke talk was held on Wednesday evening at the lodge room of the Friendship Council, R. A. There were 200 invitations sent out and nearly as many responded. The entertainment of the evening was furnished by George R. Cutler of Boston, the singing comedian. The distinguished guest, present was Supreme Regent Daniel R. Peckford of Massachusetts.

Local democrats who are members of the Rockingham county Democratic club will attend the meeting of the club which will be held in Portsmouth, Oct. 23. There are many members here who are also busy engaged in making arrangements for the rally which will be held on Oct. 29.

Mrs. Sarah E. Eaton, 63 years of age, died at her home in Kensington yesterday after a brief illness. She was a native of Holland, but had lived in Kensington for thirteen years, going there from Boston. Survivors are two sons, John and Frank, both of Boston, and being on the police force of that city, and the other engaged in the insurance business, also a daughter, Mrs. Walter Holmes of Lewiston, Me.

Lillian Whitman of Barnstable, Mass., entertained an audience at Newfields this evening with educational lectures. The affair was held under the auspices of the Goodwill League of Rockingham of that town.

Judge of Probate Louis G. Hoyt of Kingston was here yesterday for the purpose of holding a special session of probate court.

One of the Oddest Plays of the Series When Murray was Caught Between Yerkes' Legs While Sliding to Second

New York, Oct. 17.—One of the oddest plays of the World's Series was seen in the sixth game. Murray drove a ripping single to right field, but he placed too low an estimate on Hooper's throwing ability, and attempted to stretch it into a double. Hooper made a good throw to Yerkes and Murray seeing that the play would be close hit the dirt. In sliding he fell feet first between Yerkes' legs. That stalwart second baseman, intent on catching the ball did not object, and as he got the ball he jabbed it against Murray, and Umpire Evans is saying waving the runner out. The playing of third baseman Herzog has been one of the surprises of the game. Few experts regarded him as the equal of Gardner, third baseman of the Red Sox and it was thought that at the far corner the Bostonians had a decided advantage. But in the first six games Herzog made nine hits for a percentage of 422, while Gardner garnered four for a percentage of 190. Herzog had ten outs and fourteen assists to his credit, while Gardner has six outs and eight assists. Neither had made an error.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

What Glasses are to Weak Eyes,
Cascarets are to Weak Bowels
Try a 10-Cent Box

Most old people must give the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to talk slowly. For age is never so elastic as youth. The muscles are as elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need "Cascarets." One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active this is important at all ages, but never so much as it fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of old need is a gentle natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is "Cascarets" and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

FORMER PASTOR DEAD.

Rev. J. E. Robins of the Methodist Church Passes Away at Wolfeboro.

Rev. Joseph E. Robins, a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, died at Wolfeboro on Wednesday after a long illness.

Mr. Robins was a graduate of Wesleyan University of Middletown, Conn., and received his degree of D. D. from Norwich University.

He was chaplain of the New Hampshire legislature in 1899 and 1901.

He leaves a widow and two sons. He served as presiding elder of the New Hampshire Methodist conference for a term, and held numerous pastorates, his last being at Peterborough. He became a member of Olive Branch Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Plymouth on August 21, 1879, and of Washington Chapter, No. 3, at Portsmouth, April 7, 1885. He joined the Orphans' Council at Dover, April 3, 1890, and St. Gerard Commandery, K. T., at Littleton, May 16, 1892. He was appointed grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge on March 16, 1900, and grand chaplain of the Grand Chapter on May 19, 1900. He became grand chaplain of the Grand Council on May 11, 1900, and grand potentate of the Grand Commandery on Sept. 29, 1903, and held those offices until the time of his death.

He was elected to life membership in the Masonic Grand Lodge on May 17, 1911. He was the representative of the Grand Lodge of Arizona from the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, and also representative of the Grand Council of Pennsylvania from the Grand Council of New Hampshire. He was a member of the foreign correspondence committee of the Grand Lodge, Grand Council, and Grand Commandery, and since 1907 had written interesting reports of the two latter bodies.

The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Knights Templar. Rev. Mr. Robins succeeded Rev. Samuel C. Kiefer as pastor of the First M. E. church of Concord in 1899. He remained five years, having the longest pastorate in the history of the society. He afterwards became elder of the Dover district.

CEMENTBOSTON RED SOX WIN
WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPDefeated the Giants in a Sensational
Game, Which Went Ten Innings.

The Boston Americans, better known as the Red Sox, are the champions of the world, having won the deciding game with the New York Giants on Wednesday afternoon at Fenway park. It was a battle royal and it went ten innings with the Red Sox nosing out a win in the last half of the tenth when Speaker came across with a timely hit and Gardner walloped out a long sacrifice fly that was a cinch for Yerkes to beat home.

Young Mr. Bedient, the colt of the world series pitchers is entitled to the credit of the game, for while he only went seven innings, he was not removed because he was not holding the Giants but to allow Hendrickson to bat for him and cloyed out a double that tied the score. Joe Wood who has been warming up to be ready for any emergency went in the tight and he held the Giants although they scored a run on him in the first of the tenth. It appears now as though Bedient and Cady who has caught the greater part of the games were the real finds of the series.

Christy Mathewson was in the box for eight innings when the Bostonians took eight innings when the Bostonians tied the score, and he was reached in the tenth for one hit which with an error gave the Sox the game.

The game was marked by the smallest attendance of any of the series, only about 20,000 fans turning out. The cause of this was not so much a wonderful catch saving a home run, the fact that the Boston team felt that they had in the last two games but rather the dissatisfaction on the part of the fans with the grasping way that the management has treated the patrons especially the Royal Rooters who have spent thousands of dollars to encourage their team. The blame is all attached to Secretary McRoy and so great is the displeasure that it has numbered the ways of his usefulness in Boston.

Both teams started in to play the game of their lives and considering the fact that there was $20,000 at stake the difference between the winning and losing side, made the players more or less nervous but they really played very steady under the conditions.

Neither scored in the first, Speaker getting a two base hit but he was left at second, and both failed to score in the second.

The Giants Score in the Third.

Devore walked, Bedient being un-Doyle was out, Gardner to Stahl, Devore going to second, Snodgrass went out to Stahl unassisted. Devore went to third. Devore scored on Murray's two-base hit to left. Speaker made a great try for the ball, Merkle out, Wagner to Stahl. One run, one hit no errors.

From that time on the Giants were able to hold the Red Sox at the same time Mr. Bedient was holding the Giants down to a hit now and then well scattered. They did get two hits in the fifth and in this inning Hooper made The Red Sox tied the score in the seventh. Gardner fled out to Snodgrass. Stahl hit a single to left, Fletcher letting the ball get by him. Wagner walked, Stahl going to second. Cady fled out to Fletcher. Hendrickson batted for Bedient. Stahl scored on Hendrickson's two-base hit. Wagner going to third. Hooper fled out to Snodgrass. One run, two hits, no errors.

Joe Wood succeeded Bedient and for two innings neither side scored. In the tenth Snodgrass was thrown out by Wood. Murray doubled to left field into the crowd and he scored on Merkle's hit to center, as Speaker fumbled the ball. Herzog struck out. Meyers was thrown out by Wood.

It was the Red Sox last chance for the bacon. Engle batted for Wood and Snodgrass dropped his fly, and Engle reached second. Hooper fled to Snodgrass. Yerkes walked. Speaker sent up a high foul that Merkle and Meyers both started for and missed. Speaker responded with a hard smash to right and Engle scored. Speaker going to second. Lewis was walked filling the bases and Gardner sent up a long fly to Devore and Yerkes scored on the throw in, and the championship went to Boston.

SAFETY FOR 35,000 MORE.

New York, Oct. 15.—President Taft, on board the yacht Mayflower today, signed an executive order putting 35,000 fourth-class postmasters in the classified service.

The execution of this order will put every fourth-class postmaster in the United States under the Civil Service, 35,000 having previously been put in the classified list by the president.

Postmaster General Hitchcock brought the new order to New York today and boarded the Mayflower to witness the battleship review. While postmasters in the designated class will be taken care of under the order, unless proved unfit, vacancies in the future will be filled by the Civil Service Commission upon reports of post-office inspectors in the case of offices paying less than $500 a year. For offices paying more than $500 a year one of three applicants in highest standing will be chosen.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Portsmouth Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed, to be entirely free from annoying dangerous, urinary disorders, is enough to make and kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Portsmouth readers.

Mrs. John M. Smart, 122 Gates St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Eight or nine years ago I began to suffer from pains in the small of my back which at times changed to a dull, grinding ache and if I overexerted my suffering was intensified. I felt tired nearly all the time and had but little energy. Having reason to believe that my kidneys were disordered, I began trying various remedies but without success, until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy. The contents of two boxes improved my condition in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn, Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's and take no other.

DIDN'T OBSERVE ECLIPSE.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 16.—The solar eclipse of the sun Oct. 10 was not seen by Prof. C. D. Perrine, director of the government observatory at Cordova, Argentina. A cablegram received by Harvard observatory from him today announced that rain prevented observations. The cablegram was sent from Christinia, Minas Geraes, Brazil.

Taft for European Immigrants.

"I am impatient to see the fruits of our labors in Panama, and to see the commerce of the Atlantic pour into the Pacific. Immigration will follow the ships into that ocean, and I expect to see California, Oregon, Washington and the whole slope peopled with ambitious, home-making immigrants from Europe."

Thus spoke President Taft in an interview published in the San Francisco Call. President Taft wishes to see the states of the Pacific populated with ambitious, home-making immigrants from Europe.

Woodrow Wilson, democratic candidate for president of the United States, says in Volume Five of his "History of the American People" that "the Chinese are more to be desired as workmen, if not as citizens, than immigrants from Europe," whom Wilson calls "the coarse crew crowding in at eastern ports."

The people of California, of Oregon, of Washington and of the country at large, can take their choice between William Howard Taft, the candidate of the republican party, who wants immigrants from Europe, or Woodrow Wilson, who prefers the Chinese.

As for Roosevelt, who is running to try to prevent the election of Taft—a vote for Roosevelt is a vote for Wilson, and therefore also a vote for Chinese immigration.

Greek Patriotism.

The Greeks resident in this country are giving a remarkable exhibition of patriotism in their willingness to return home to fight in the war against Turkey. They are sacrificing much, some of them abandoning business enterprises that are the results of years of work, some leaving their families. Those who are unable to go, who have passed the reservist stage or are physically incapacitated, are contributing to funds to pay the passage of those who are returning or to support the families who are left behind. This manifestation of loyalty is impressive. One factor is to be borne in mind. Under the Greek law a reservist—and practically every able-bodied Greek is subject to military service—must answer the summons of his country or he is forever barred from returning to it, unless he is able to prove that he absolutely cannot fight in the ranks. Consequently it is an irresistible call that the Greeks in America are now heeding, for virtually all who have not renounced their Greek citizenship in favor of America hope at some time to return to end their days in their native land. This is true patriotism.—Washington Star.

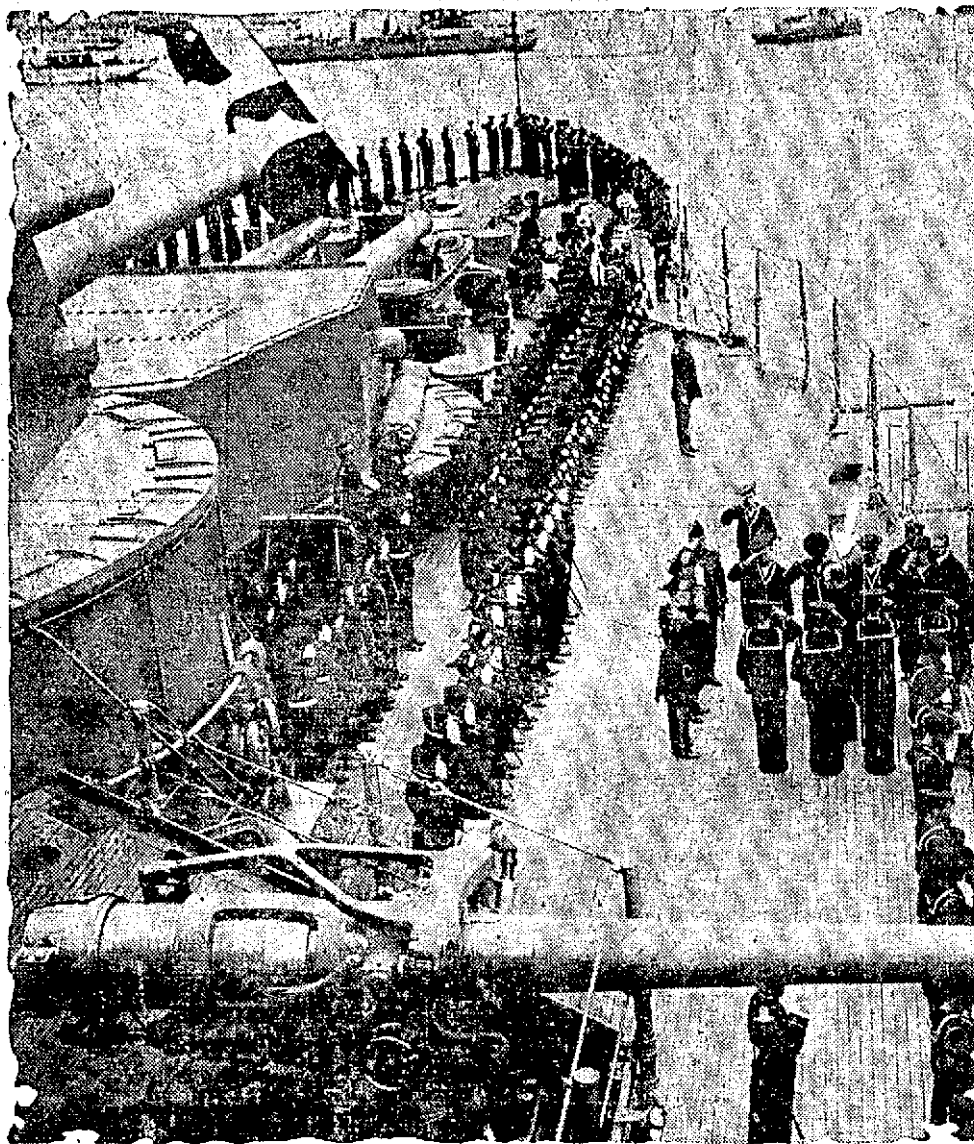

The New York World states that the appraisal of the real estate of the late John Jacob Astor in that city for the state transfer taxes exceeds by twenty millions its assessed valuation for taxation. The apparent ratio of tax assessment to appraised value is only 66 per cent. Over in Brooklyn, property about Fulton street and Ashland avenue affected by the 4th avenue subway was assessed at $1,651,400 in 1910, and is held by the owners as worth $4,183,050 and as damaged $3,000,000 for partial use. One property there owned by a supreme court justice and assessed in 1910 at $52,000 is now valued for subway damages at $270,561.

The New York Sun voices a popular opinion when it says nothing more impudent and dishonest has been heard in this campaign than the democratic attacks on President Taft in which his vetoes of bills that he could not approve are described as arbitrary, unwarranted and in violation of the spirit of American institutions. The fact is that in no veto has the president exceeded the powers of his office or failed in obedience to his oath of office. The measures Mr. Taft disapproved were presented to him in the regular course of legislation. He did not approve them. He returned each to the House in which it originated, with objections.

The Boston Transcript remarks that a great deal of our worst national legislation is imposed upon us in the form of riders. That method constitutes the thimble-rigging process by which objectionable measures are given legal standing by bringing them in under the wing of some bill that is legitimate and unobjectionable. Appropriation bills seem to be the favorite media for sinister business of this kind. These enable its promoters to add pressure to secrecy, by making the rider a part of the bill that must be accepted or rejected as a whole, and not in detail.

England, as a highly moral nation, is bound to encourage China's efforts to eradicate the opium vice, even though the reformation will spoil a fine market for East India's poppy crop.

President Taft and Secretary Meyer on Their Inspection Visit to Super-Dreadnought Arkansas.

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

President Taft and Secretary of the Navy Meyer inspected the super-dreadnought Arkansas, which with her sister ship, the Wyoming, is the mightiest battleship in the world, during the mobilization of the Atlantic fleet at New York. The president expressed his pleasure with the mammoth fighting ship's evidence of power. The arrow indicates President Taft. Secretary Meyer is seen with head uncovered near the ship's rail.

CONVINCED.

We had another speaker down to Po-hick on the Creek. We all put on our Sunday clothes and had 'em neat an' slick. We waited for his eloquence to thrill us through an' through Dellyver's instructions on what nations ought to do. But he never stood before us on that platform strong and high! Before he struck the steps the Miggins baby caught his eye. He grabbed it from its mother an' he held it up to view. An' shook his finger at it while he hol-lered "Coochy-coo!"

You should have heard the cheerin'! We set up a mighty shout! You should have seen the way fond parents trotted babies out. An' he never turned an eyelash. To the finish he was game. He took the little feller an' he treated all the same. We'll vote for him for certain. Every mother in the town. Will see that every father gets the proper ballot down. Though I must confess, in private, I don't understand—do you?—Why we'd send a man to office jes' for sayin' "Coochy-coo!" —Washington Star.

Current Comment.

Whom to Marry

Among Shakespeare's women, which would make the best wife? Portia has extreme administrative competence cheerfulness, wit and reasonableness. She was proposed in a girls' school last winter as the finest woman character in all literature, but voted down Rebecca in "Ivanhoe," Jeanie Deans in "The Heart of Midlothian" and Margaret in "The Cloister and the Hearth" being among the rivals. Portia has everything said a man, but nevertheless I don't like her. She is too triumphant. In spite of all that is said about her her surface remains hard. It is only in the last act that she is human. Rosalind fascinates everybody. She is a public character. She shines for all. It would be hard to think of her as having most of her days confined to so small a world as a single home or even as many of them as would be required to light and warm such a humble universe through the long and quiet stretches of a life time. Miranda is very young and on a desert island but she would deserve her name in any situation. Beatrice? Perhaps one ought to be as boyant as Benedick to feel equal to life with her. Juliet is the entire opposite of Rosalind. All her brilliant intelligence is melted into feeling and subdued to the purposes of her heart; and Viola has more than the fancy of Rosalind with the devoted emotion of Juliet. Either Viola or Juliet would win, probably with our man readers, and in spite of the objections made to her Portia would probably win among the most modern, positive and progressive of our woman readers.

There is no man in Shakespeare especially ideal to the minds of women, none, certainly, even Romeo who begins to arouse as much enthusiasm as some in other literature. Shakespeare himself a man, drew women with a touch that makes them loved by men; if he had been a woman probably the process would have been reversed. In fact even though such a comparatively small part of the great novels have been written by women a number of the heroes who are most popular with them are to be found in the writings of women, such as Rochester, in "Jane Eyre," Darcy in "Pride and Prejudice" and Lydiate in "Middlemarch." When women produce a Shakespeare she will find her plays with men who would make ideal husbands. —Collier's Magazine.

How the Salvation Army Grew

It is a mistake to suppose that we have taken the military as a model. We have never taken anything as a model—no church, no chapel, no army. In fact the title Captain was in the first instance, intended to be nautical rather than military and was meant to catch the eye of the Whitty fishermen, the subsequent addition of other military titles was a matter of necessity. It became essential to define the position of the assistant evangelist. And what more convenient term could be found than that of lieutenant? Elders and class readers were no more, and some substitute was necessary. Sergeants and Sergeant Majors just met the difficulty. The rapid increase of the work made it advisable to group the stations into districts under the charge of the most experienced evangelist. A distinguishing title again became necessary. The clerical catalogue had been abandoned as unsuitable. Hence it appeared advisable once more to have recourse to military phraseology and the major and colonel were accordingly introduced. As to my own title it came as naturally as the rest. I had up to then been plain William Booth, general superintendent of the mission. Captain Cadman one day pronounced me at a meeting as the general of the Salvation Army. It has stuck to me ever since. I never took the title it was forced upon me by others in exactly the same way that Christians were first called so at Antioch. The stations received the name of corps, and in 1878 the first flag was presented. I designed the colors and am rather proud of them. —Autobiography of Gen. William Booth.

BRYAN EMBARRASSED.

But Says Campaign Issues Must Be Discussed.

Franklin, Ind., Oct. 16.—"It is embarrassing to discuss Mr. Roosevelt or his policies at this time, while he is suffering from the murderous assault made upon him," was the way William J. Bryan opened his first address on his Indiana tour here today.

"I would rather occupy the time," continued Mr. Bryan, "in denunciation of the deed, and in expression of sympathy for him and hopes for his speedy recovery, but the issues of this campaign should not be determined by the act of a mad man. They must be settled by the sane rather than the in-

If he is elected President, it should be because of what he has done in the past and what he proposes to do. Thin brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp and dandruff, that awful scalp condition which is so destructive to the hair and its strength. It robs the hair of its strength, its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die, then the hair falls out fast.

RAILROAD NOTES

The state of Massachusetts was ordered to pay $78,797 to the New York New Haven and Hartford railroad by Judge Sheldon of the Supreme court. The sum was an excise tax in excess of what was due the treasurer of the Commonwealth, and was paid in 1910.

The tax was claimed by the state in the sale of the railroad land in Park Square to the Park Square Trust, for a sum of $4,000,000. The supreme court later decided that the railroad did not have a right to sell the land.

The work of rebuilding the Nobles Island Highway and railroad bridge will begin in November by the bridge department of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

The New Haven's pay cars which cover the Massachusetts southeast territory are undergoing general repairs at the Readville shops.

President Wilbur and other officials of the Boston and Maine passed through here on a special passenger train on Wednesday for Portland to attend a directors meeting of the Maine Central.

A section crew of fifty men will shortly begin repairs of the roadbed on the Portland division at Kennebunk.

E. H. Burchard, manager of the transfer office of the American Express at the depot is passing a vacation in Nova Scotia. His place is being filled by Granville O. Berry.

The Boston and Maine railroad has established a department at the North Union depot, Boston, to handle complaints by the travelling public and for the redemption of tickets.

The wrecking train in charge of conductor C. B. Remick was sent to Hampton Falls today where wreck master Works and crew made repairs on a damaged car.

COL. ROOSEVELT CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Considered Out of Danger if He Will Remain Quiet—Family Reach Hospital.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, his family with him are satisfied as to his condition, today rest at greater ease than at any time since the hand of John Schrank was lifted against his life in Milwaukee Monday night. Physicians examining his wound today and making a complete clinical examination, found his pulse, respiration and temperature so nearly at normal that concern over his condition vanished and the extremely conservative conduct gave way to a desire to establish public assurance that no complications now were looked for to stand in the way of rapid recovery.

Colonel Roosevelt was in even better spirits today than yesterday and the novelty of his situation having worn off he prepared for the day with the idea of getting done all the work up and writings he could. During the early hours of the night the Colonel's sleep often was broken and for long periods he was awake, while away the time with a copy of Macaulay's Essays which he brought to the hospital with him. Often the volume would fall from his hands and for a short space he dozed, only to awaken with a start and resume his reading. Up to two o'clock in the morning his clinical record was regularly taken but shortly after that time he fell into a deep slumber from which he did not awaken until long past daylight. That the long sleep had been beneficial was at once apparent as he hardly needed his testimony that he was "feeling fine" to confirm his general appearance.

TURKEY TO TAKE OFFENSIVE.

This is According to a Constantinople Dispatch.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The Turkish armies have been ordered to take the offensive immediately, according to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Temps.

The European powers, in the opinion of diplomatic circles, must now await a favorable moment to take concerted action. This might be in the form of mediation between the belligerents, or, if the approaching war should have definite action might be expressed concretely at a conference. None of the powers is ready to commit itself to specific action, but all recognize the wisdom of keeping in constant communication with each other.

THE OLD SPELLING BOOK

H. M. Greendead in Christian Advocate.

A country schoolhouse weatherworn. Far from a club or college, Was where my infant feet first sought To climb the hill of knowledge

And from an ancient spelling book Bound in a stiff board cover, From a h a b I spelled to cat, From cat went on to lover.

And fired with zeal still to ascend, I learned enfold and physic, And reached triumphantly at last The page on which was phthisis.

And counting all the stately rows, Of words from dot to duple, I soon began to look in scorn, On early lessons simple.

Despising monosyllables I joyed in complication In words like metamorphosis And transubstantiation.

And ne'er has moment been so proud In all life's fortune chary, As that in which I went up head On eponymography.

An in an old time escrutoire, With many a valued treasure, A worn out spelling book now lies, Reminder of that pleasure.

MCGRAW'S CLEVERNESS.

Judgment of the Peerless Leader Fully Justified.

No more will Marquard be referred to as "the $1,000 man." "Kube" is another who would not now be wearing a flannel uniform if McGraw had taken the advice which many of the New York fans and sport writers handed him a few seasons back. The "Kube" was not considered seriously previous to the opening of the series though he had won nineteen straight during the National league season. After his long winning streak had been broken Marquard took a big slump and it was thought he would be useless to the Giants against the Red Sox, but McGraw gave his southpaw a good rest and Marquard was primed to battle for his life. In the two games which he has won he has had the Boston batters at his mercy.

AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE RACES AT ROCKINGHAM PARK NEXT SATURDAY.

There is every indication that the interest in the auto and motorcycle races at Rockingham park, which were postponed from last Saturday, owing to the dampness of the track and the threatening weather, to next Saturday, will be all the greater now that the excellent over the result of the baseball series is over. Of the twenty or more entries in the auto racing events something like fifteen makes of world-renowned racing cars are represented and there is a fine representation of the star drivers of this country. In the motorcycle racing events there are no less than twelve entries. In fact, all the entries for last Saturday are retained and there are important additions.

There is a pronounced interest in the Stutz wire wheel racer which will specially for the Vanderbilt cup race at Milwaukee, driven there by H. Anderson, which has been brought to here specially for Harry Grant to drive in the 10-mile Rockingham park race and the 25-mile match race. Standing out as a sterling performance was the work of this Stutz at Milwaukee which was the only American car to finish in the Grand Prix race for the international trophy of the Automobile Club of America. The Stutz ran consistently at all times, being in third place from the 44th lap on, and being beaten only by thirty-one records by the big Benz driven by Bergdall. At that it was the closest finish of the race. This Stutz averaged 65.5 miles per hour and had no mechanical trouble whatever. At Milwaukee it held the palm for the longest non-stop run of the day, Anderson making only two stops during the entire 116 miles of the race, running the first 215 miles without a halt.

J. L. Judd, agent of the Jackson car, has entered two of his cars. Harry Cobb will drive one of them and Charles Hall the other. Manager Judd has had them specially tuned for this event and is confident of carrying off some of the big prize money.

A sixty horse power French Morris car has been entered by the Lexington Co., which was built specially for the Vanderbilt cup race, to be driven by J. D. Bisset who won the 10-mile Rockingham race last June. He will compete in the 10-mile Rockingham park trophy and the 25-mile races.

N. P. Darling will be represented by his four-cylinder National, driven by G. C. Jessop. Jack LeCain is entered to drive in several important events with the wire wheel Stutz, and Harry Edicott will drive another Stutz that has just been sent on from the factory at Trenton.

The Boston & Maine will run special trains from the North Station at 11:30 and 12:25, arriving at the park in time for lunch, the races starting at 1 o'clock. It is promised that the motorcycle races will be equally interesting. New England's famous racers competing for the championship of this section.

For the convenience of those who wish to secure seats in advance, arrangements have been made to place tickets on sale at the following places: Jaynes drug store, corner Merrimack and Main streets, Haverhill, Mass.; Messers. Carter & Sherbourne, waiting room, Lowell, Mass.; F. H. Wingate, 125 Main street, Nashua, N. H.; Walsh & Cummings, Amherst and Elm streets, Manchester, N. H.; and the Forrest drug store, Lawrence, Mass.

recent third termers' nominations and senators and representatives, filed with the board by Judge Jesse Barton chairman of the Republican state committee.

The protests over the nominations in senatorial districts twenty one and twenty four and in addition to the representative nominees in Berlin and many of the towns of Coos County, the nominees in the following towns and cities have been protested:

Nashua, wards 1, 3, 4, 7, and 8; Portsmouth, ward 1; Concord, ward 1; Dover, ward 2 and 4; Laconia, ward 1; Manchester, ward 8; Haverhill, Sandown, Canaan, Enfield, Woodstock, Appleton, Ashland, Piermont, Warner, Lebanon, Holderness, Sutton, Exeter, Milford, Lisbon, Northumberland, Whitefield, Claremont, Rollinsford, Bartlett, Salem, Lancaster, Chester, Acworth, Charlesdown, Troydon, Cornish, Goshean, Grantham, Langdon, Lemster, Newport, Plainfield, Springfield, Sunapee, Union, Enfield, Hanover, Lebanon, Hill, Campbell, Bethlehem, Littleton, Plymouth, Warren, Wentworth.

Not only do the protests cover the sixty odd nominations cited above but they also cover the petitions that may be made Saturday, next.

The protests are made on the following grounds:

1. Because said nomination papers are not in conformity with the law in such case made and provided and consequently are invalid and void.
2. Because said nomination papers do not contain all the facts required by law in the certificate of nomination.
3. Because said nomination papers are not signed but such persons as are qualified to vote Nov. 12, 1912 for the candidates named therein.
4. Because said nomination papers are signed by alleged voters who have signed more than one nomination paper for the nomination of candidates for the office for which the persons herein named are candidates.
5. Because said nomination papers are signed by voters who had practiced to the signing of the same, voted at the primary election of Sept. 3, 1912.
6. Because said nomination papers purport to place in nomination as candidates, to be voted for Nov. 5, 1912, names of candidates who participated in the primary election of Sept. 3, 1912 and who were regular candidates on the ballot used at said primary election.
7. Because said nomination papers do not state the name of the office for which the persons named therein are candidates.
8. Because said nomination papers do not state the residence of candidates attempted thereby to be nominated.
9. Because said nomination papers do not bear the certificate of a majority of the board of supervisors in the various towns and wards where he signers thereof are said to reside.
10. Because said nomination papers have been altered and changed in a material respect since being signed.
11. Because said nomination papers are otherwise informal, insufficient, and illegal.

At the hearing this afternoon the state committee was represented by former Attorney General Edwin C. Eastman of Exeter and Harry J. Brown of this city. There were present in the interests of the third termers Louis B. Wyman of Manchester, Judge James W. Remick were present as were also several other prominent attorneys.

The hearing this afternoon was productive of no results, and just before 4 o'clock adjourned until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at which time each case will be taken up separately and specific objections made by the counsel for the state committee.

In opening Mr. Eastman mentioned the case of the defeated republican candidate for senator in the twenty-first district and who afterwards appeared on Third Term nomination papers for the nomination to the same office from the same district. He argued that simple ethics would prevent an ordinary man from following such seemingly unfair tactics in order to get his name placed in nomination. It seemed that the candidate for Third Term honors had received enough signatures to place his name in nomination in spite of the fact that the attorney general thought he had less than the requisite 250.

A lengthy argument ensued between the Third Termers' attorney on the question as to whether or not the allegations of chairman Barton were too general, attorney Wyman holding that all but four of the allegations should be made more specific in order to call for refutation.

There was also some discussion on the question of whether or not the state committee would have to produce the men who took part in the primaries and learn from them for what candidate they voted in order to have allegation No. five sustained. The hearing adjourned leaving the entire matter in abeyance and will be continued tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

VALID PUBLIC TRUST.

Massachusetts Court So Decides the Will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—The full bench of the Massachusetts Supreme court decides that the will of Rev. Mary Baker Eddy has created a valid public trust, which can be administered by a trustee appointed by the court. The decision also declares that the heirs cannot inherit Mrs. Eddy's property.

The court holds that the Massachusetts statute limiting the amount of a bequest to a religious body applies in the present instance as against the administration of this trust by the directors of the Christian Science Church, but that a valid trust having been created it can be administered in accordance with Mrs. Eddy's wishes by another trustee.

This finding affects only the portion of Mrs. Eddy's estate in Massachusetts consisting of two properties estimated at $155,000 in value. The most of Mrs. Eddy's estate is in New Hampshire and the Supreme Court of that state last spring decided that the trust created by Mrs. Eddy, by which her fortune was to be used for the purpose of more effectively promoting and extending the religion of Christian Science as taught by her, was valid.

MINISTER PAYS FINE.

Costs Him $38 for Beating a Horse—Denies Story at First.

Rev. Walter E. Brooks a Methodist minister of Tuftonboro was fined $25 with costs, bringing the total to $38.00, by Justice Charles F. Wilcox, of Osage, N. H., on a charge of cruelty to a horse. The judge told him that heavy penalty was imposed as an example and that the public expected different treatment of animals by ministers.

The case was brought to the attention of the New Hampshire Woman's Hupgang Society by the Massachusetts S. P. C. A. and Rev. Mr. Brooks was subpoenaed after an investigation by Edwin C. Maker of Nashua and H. E. Rowan of Lakeport, agents of the New Hampshire society.

The respondent at first denied at first that he had ever beaten his horse, but later pleaded guilty.

Col. Joshua Vaughan of Exeter formerly one of the standard bearers of ward four this city was a visitor here on Wednesday, and he passed considerable time with Ezra Towle, and found out the right dope on the political situation.

ADDED TO THE GOOD TIME

Bear Story, Though Short, Was a Thing of Consequence to Those Silent Mountaineers.

There were six stalwart pioneers who settled in Upham county, West Virginia, long before the war, when there wasn't "a stick amiss" and hunting was good. They were brothers and their name was Phillips.

Each fall after hog-killing time they held a family reunion, at which a feast fit for the gods was partaken of in silence, except for the blessing, which was always asked by the eldest brother. They did not believe in much talk or levity. When they spoke it was usually in monosyllables. After dinner they would sit around the big log fireplace, tilted back in split bottom chairs, and smoke their corn-cob pipes in silence until it was time to go home and do the chores.

At one of the reunions something of unusual interest occurred—one of the boys told a bear story. While sitting around the fire smoking one of the brothers pushed up his sleeve, exposing a badly lacerated arm. The five gazed at it in respectful silence for a few moments. Their experience in the mountains told them that their brother had a hand to hand fight with a bear. One of them opened the ensuing dialogue with:

"Um-mph—bar?"
"Yee-ah."
"Whar?"

"Over thar," jerking his thumb back over his shoulder in the direction of Beech mountain.

After this bear story of five words they smoked in silence until it was time to go home. For months after that reunion they would remark to visiting neighbors that they had "a powerful fine time at Eben's reunion."

It was remarkable, because they had had a bear story in addition to the blessing, which was a powerful lot of talk for these silent men.

TRACE ALPHABET FAR BACK

Belief That It Had Its Origin With the Phoenicians Proved to Be a Wrong One.

In a lecture at the Royal Institute Prof. Flinders Petrie attacked the long accepted theory that the origin of the alphabet is to be found in Phoenicia, whence it came from Egyptian hieroglyphics.

According to Professor Petrie, the researches of the last twenty years have shown that signs were earlier than pictures and that it was the sign that survived to become the alpha and beta of one civilization and the A B C of another.

Just as the philologist had discovered an entire system of languages, so the alphabetarian had discovered in the diversity of alphabets an original prototype of all. In Professor Petrie's words, "The Phoenicians are people of yesterday compared with those who wrote the signs that are the origin of all alphabets."

It was to pottery, said the professor, that Egyptologists and others were indebted for these signs, and their development was worked out on these lines. Flatnose made a pot and put a mark on it to show that it was his. In time, because it was his mark, the sign stood for Flatnose himself, and then the sign became attached to a sound irrespective of the thing itself. Gradually the wearing down went on until the sign stood, not for a sound, but a syllable, and then for a letter.

The signs, of course, were not an alphabet; that did not arrive until perhaps 1,000 B. C., whereas signs were found in early prehistoric Egypt, probably 7,000 B. C. Proofs of this common origin were plentiful, for the signs spread by trade far north and south, and appeared similarly in Runo, Iberian and Karian, and yet were unknown in Phoenician.

When Eloquence Didn't Work. There is such a thing as being too eager, as witness the following remark:

"Yes," said the statesman, "I defeated myself by my own eloquence once."

"How was that?"

"I was a candidate for the nomination to congress, and I got up and made a speech to the convention, in which I just naturally flung Old Glory, with a capital O and a capital G, to the breeze in so enthusiastic a manner that I took the house by storm. I dilated on the greatness of our country and on the responsibilities of the man who should be called to make its laws, till one old fellow from a back county got up and said that I had convinced him that it was too big a job for so young a man as I was to tackle, so he moved that the convention nominate a man of more experience; and, by gee, they did it."

Hardly a Compliment.

It is said that General Crittender used to tell with great glee of what his small son, then eight or nine years old, said to him a day or two after the battle of Chickamauga. The general had ridden during the battle a horse named John Jay that was a great favorite with the little fellow. The child, visiting the camp, asked after the horse and was told that in the fight he had acted badly, insisting upon taking his rider to the rear. The boy considered gravely a moment, then, shaking a remonstrating finger, cried:

"Papa, that must have been your work. I know John Jay would never have acted like that of his own free will!"

BALLOT HEARINGS. Commissioners Hear Complaint Against Progressive Nominees.

The ballot commissioners, Atty.-Gen. James P. Tuttle, Charles Perkins of Manchester, and Charles G. Rogers of Tilton, held a preliminary hearing on Wednesday afternoon at Concord on the objections filed with the secretary of state to the nomination papers of more than 30 candidates on the progressive ticket, but none of the cases were taken up in detail, being postponed to 9 a. m. tomorrow. Former Atty.-Gen. Edwin G. Eastman of Exeter and Harry J. Brown of this city appeared for the republican state committee, and Louis E. Wyman of Manchester for the progressives.

Gen. Eastman and Mr. Wyman delayed the hearing, which was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, by their non-arrival, and it was nearly 3 o'clock when the session was called to order. Taking up the 21st senatorial district, Gen. Eastman said he understood the nominating petition of Howard Lane did not have the requisite number of signatures, also that Lane was disqualified from running on nomination papers by being a republican candidate for the nomination at the primaries. Of the eighty signers in the town of Exeter, Gen. Eastman said sixteen were disqualified, ten having signed prohibition nomination papers, one having signed socialist nomination papers, and five having voted at the primaries.

Mr. Wyman spoke briefly, stating that in his opinion specifications one, two, three, four, five, ten and eleven were inadequate and insufficient to raise any question. These specifications, he argued, are not open to amendment any more than the nomination papers themselves may be amended.

RIPE OLD AGE.

Robert Newson of Kittery who recently observed his 90th birthday was known for many years as an expert skater and it was only his advanced years that has kept him from this practice. Up to the age of eighty he could be seen on the rivers and ponds enjoying the sport as much as he did when a boy. In this pastime it took skaters many years his junior to keep pace with the Kittery man. Mr. Newson for the most of his life was employed as a ship carpenter for private builders and also at the navy yard. He helped in the construction of many of the vessels that added history to the country and was an expert at the work. His wife is 83 years of age and they have enjoyed 67 years of married life.

MELLEN A FAN.

It is evident that president Mellen of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford, and the Boston and Maine lines is a base ball fan and that the Boston Red Sox were his favorites. On Wednesday during the World's Series game at Boston Mr. Mellen and other officials were out on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine on a special train bound for Portland to the directors' meeting of the Maine Central at Portland. So interested was president Mellen that he had arranged for special bulletins all along the line to be handed the conductor of the train. When he received the final score which declared Boston the winner he was exceedingly delighted.

MATTER OF HOME FOR THE HOSPITAL NURSES CONSIDERED

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Portsmouth hospital was held on Wednesday, Oct. 16, at the residence of Hon. Woodbury Langdon on Pleasant street.

The customary annual reports were rendered showing the hospital to be in a good condition financially and doing a most excellent work.

The total number of hospital days has been 6810 of which 1413 were part pay days and 1614 free to patients. There have been 47 births in the maternity ward, an increase of nine from last year.

Ten day, which has become a permanent feature in hospital plans, netted this year about $1000. This annual contribution towards current expenses is a great help and is highly appreciated.

The directors report with pleasure that without asking assistance from the trustees they have been able this year to meet all expenses and start the new year with a balance in the treasury.

The following named officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John S. Rand; secretary, John C. Bletcher; treasurer, Lewis E. Staples.

A committee of four were appointed to consider the matter of a home for the nurses and to report at a later meeting.
